The First 75 Years....

PART ONE

Going beyond what you thought was possible!

CREATIVE BACKGROUND

Rock&Roll Band (1960's)

I started my musical 'career' while still at school during the 1960's. I played keyboards in a successful high school Rock'n'Roll band, Sebastian Hardie with the singer, Jon English.

The band went on to be Australia's first symphonic rock band and Jon went to play the leading role in the stage musical Jesus Christ Superstar. He ultimately became a highly acclaimed Australian singer, song-writer and actor.

Jon English, Alex Plavsic, Peter Plavsic, "Fan", Graham Ford, Anatole Kononewsky
(Sebastian Hardie, 1969, University of NSW Ball)

I was also in the backing group for the legendary singer, Johnny O'Keefe, Australia's first King of Rock'n'Roll. We were playing in RSL clubs & shows, it was amazing to see how people, would denigrate us, but without fail – everytime – no matter your age or musical preference, he would have the audience on their feet, and even on the tables, by the end of each 40 minute set – no matter what!

CREATIVE BACKGROUND

The Homeland Foundation(1970's)

After leaving the band in the early 70's, I did not pursue a musical career. However, I continued to be a song-writer and composer in the background of his life. Over the next 40 years I created a substantial body of largely unpublished musical and literary works.

I was involved in setting up the Homeland Foundation on 345 acres of beautiful in Uper Thora, NSW on the Bellinger River. It was the sister community to Findhorn Community in Scotland. The founders, Peter and Eileen Caddy visited and stayed there.

Completion of Creative Works

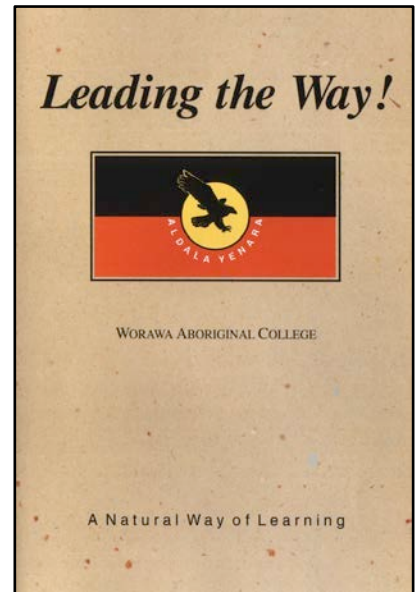

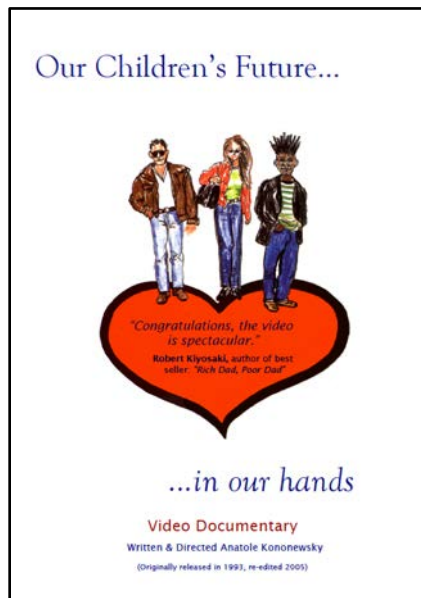

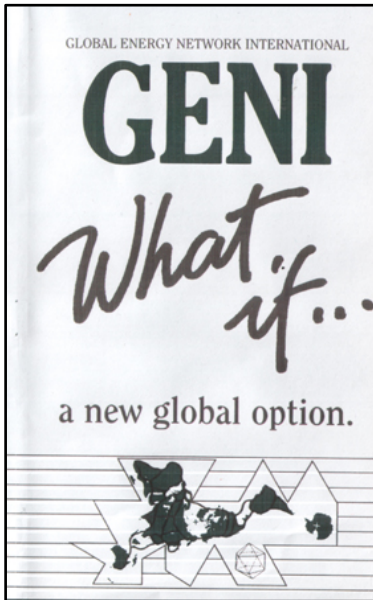

My creative works are in an early stage of development, in preparation for completion. The times I've spent in a recording studio I have always truly loved it -- working with others to bring the full creative potential of the piece to life.

I would love the next stage of my life to be focused on completing these creative works.

Three Theme Songs

"See the World in You"

Words & Music by Anatole Kononewsky, 1989

The song was composed especially for the launch of the documentary:

"What If... A New Global Option".

The song was recorded and produced in 1989, Sydney with a close friend and singer / musician, Kevin Bennett.

The chorus in the song, "What if the world turned around and said, isn't it enough?" is an extremely important question for our future of this planet and our children.

"See What We Can Be"

Words & Music by Anatole Kononewsky, 1993

This song was composed for the launch of the doco in Melbourne. Jerry Speiser, the drummer from "Men at Work" helped me produce a demo recording, back in the 90's.

Used for the Fitzroy Community School Choir who performed the song at the launch, coordinated by Philip O'Carroll, Drusilla Hendry & Sumitra Phoenix.

The music from the song was used as the soundtrack for Documentary:

Hyllus Maris was the founder of Worawa Aboriginal College, 1983. Her sisters continued her work.

During the early part of the 90's, Anatole Kononewsky produced three short documentaries that were inspired to specifically support three initiatives for the environment and the future of our children. The model is based on the documentary motivating and empowering people to link, network and get involved with supporting the associated initiative. A song was composed for each of the initiatives at the time.

“Before it’s Too Late”

National Model Trialed 1990 to 1996 - Supporting our Children’s Future...

Before it’s Too Late was initiated in 1990 by a group of individuals wanting to address the challenges facing all our young people, and to provide a vehicle for effective support at a community level, via our 3 key projects.

Motivating & Empowering

The MOVE Project

Aims to raise awareness of issues relating to young people and give opportunities for individual, business and community involvement. We do this through:

- Public awareness events and communications
- Educational initiatives
- Distribution of the video “Our Children’s Future in Our Hands” – an important and powerful tool for generating awareness and discussion in the home, schools, business, community.
- A national campaign based on the African proverb:
“It Takes a Whole Village to Raise a Child”

Linking & Networking

The LINK Project

- Linking Business & Community Resources to Youth Support Organisations
- Creating Opportunities to Network, Cooperate & Share Resources.

Currently there are many established organisations supporting our young people - often struggling for human & material resources to continue their work. There are also many businesses and individuals in the community who sincerely want to get involved in supporting children, but simply don’t know how or where to start. The LINK project is a way in which these two areas can meet more effectively.

It is about supporting children from every walk of life and promotes and assists the work of already existing youth support organisations.

Getting Involved Very Easily

The G.I.V.E. Project (long-term initiative)

G.I.V.E. is a national computerised information networking system allowing the community, business and individuals to actively participate in supporting young people and youth support organisations.

It’s about all our children, from every walk of life!

“The Before it’s Too Late project is such a positive way of supporting them by providing opportunities for everyone to get involved – to do something. You have my support.”

Lulu, International Singer & Actor.

“There are a lot of important issues covered in the video.

Congratulations!”

Scientific Hypothesis Overview

Stage One R&D: Investigations of Scientific Concept (2015 to 2024)

The essential understanding for this scientific Hypothesis was developed by Mark McCutcheon and Anatole Kononewsky during 2013 to 2015. The IP has been assigned to Clean PowR Pty Ltd (CleanPowR), a wholly-owned subsidiary of PowRchanics, by the inventors. Stage One R&D: Initial Investigations of Scientific Concept' was then undertaken between 2015 to 2024. The theoretical understanding was consolidated during 2023/24 in preparation for Stage Two R&D.

Core PowRchanics® Hypothesis

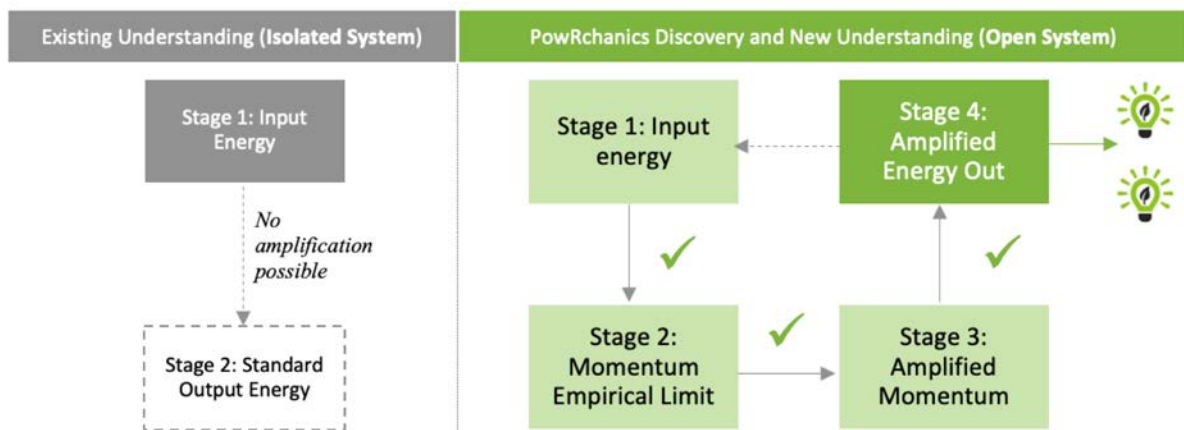

A fixed input effort is applied to optimally set up a specific type of drive-force potential, which then acts according to our Hypothesis in a unique and proprietary Open System manner upon flywheels of significant inertia, building increasing flywheel momentum unexpected in a more typical Isolated System operation, which is then efficiently extracted in a specific manner that preserves this increase to deliver significant output gains compared to input. IP/Trade Secrets
Our Ref: G1079AU00

Instructions

We have been instructed by Clean PowR to summarise their IP position in terms of patent and trade secret protection resulting from R&D activity since 2015. This R&D activity includes or is related to technology promoted by Clean PowR under the registered trade mark PowRchanics®

Clark IP

Clark Intellectual Property Pty Ltd (Clark IP) has acted as Clean PowR's patent attorneys during the course of this R&D activity. We have provided strategic IP advice and been responsible for the drafting and filing of patent applications covering what we believe are patentable aspects of the Clean PowR R&D activity. More recently and together with their foreign associates, Clark IP has been responsible for prosecution of Clean PowR's patent applications in select jurisdictions. David Clark being the owner of Clark IP has had sole responsibility for this work and his professional profile can be seen at the Clark IP website Clark IP.

IP Protection Summary

The IP portfolio of Clean PowR, which includes protection for the PowRchanics® technology, is broadly divided into the following three (3) categories:

1. patents and patent applications in Australia and elsewhere for two (2) core technologies;
2. potential patent applications for five (5) additional technologies which are considered at least inherently patentable;
3. trade secrets derived from Clean PowR R&D activity and in particular specific scientific hypotheses or discoveries.

The attached Clean PowR patent portfolio summarises the various patents/applications in Australia and elsewhere for the two (2) technologies.

The term of a regular patent in most countries is twenty (20) years from the date of filing of the original complete application. In this case, the complete application was an International or PCT application having a filing date of 3 July 2018 which means (subject to payment of renewal fees) the national patents/applications will expire on 3 July 2038. It should be noted that the Clean PowR trade secrets supplement the Clean PowR patents and survive the patents, the trade secrets being protected in perpetuity under strict protocols of confidentiality.

The Search Authority – International Preliminary Report on Patentability (IPRP)

The core technology of Clean PowR's PCT patent application which has now separated into various national/regional patent applications was the subject of substantive examination before the Search Authority of WIPO who administer the PCT. The Search Authority issued:

- a positive International Preliminary Report on Patentability (IPRP) meaning that all claims were considered both novel and inventive.

Clark Intellectual Property Pty Limited ABN 68 609 281 709 is registered with the Trans-Tasman IP Attorneys Board as an Incorporated Patent Attorney. Clark Intellectual Property Pty Limited conducts business under the registered business name Clark IP.

(See overpage)

- That is, in the opinion of the Search Authority the 64 amended claims of the PCT application can result in valid patent protection.
- It should also be noted that the Search Authority considered all amended claims to meet the requirement of industrial applicability.

It is important to recognise that the IPRP is not binding on any foreign Patent Offices in deciding whether or not to grant patent protection.

Having said that, this positive IPRP should prove to be at least persuasive in determination of this patent application in Australia and overseas.

Patents Granted and Allowed

The US patent for Clean PowR was granted in April 2022. This is a significant milestone in progress of the Clean PowR patent portfolio, noting that US patents are generally difficult to obtain due largely to rigorous examination practices before the USPTO. The presumption of validity of the claims of the US patent is relatively high. The granted US claims may thus form the basis of claims in corresponding applications elsewhere and this approach is generally considered favorably by examiners. Clean PowR have additionally filed a divisional application in the US intended to supplement and extend protection offered by their granted US patent.

The Chinese patent for Clean PowR was granted in December 2022. The Chinese patent includes a range of patent claims directed to various aspects of the Clean PowR technology including "energy apparatus", "storage apparatus" and corresponding "method" claims.

It is expected that granted patents such as the US and Chinese patents will provide an effective foundation for monetisation of the associated technology via patent licensing arrangements with royalty-bearing terms.

The South African patent has been allowed and the official notification of grant which was to occur in late January 2023 is expected shortly.

The Hong Kong patent application which is based on the granted Chinese patent will automatically register and grant upon request by late June 2023.

Potential Additional Patent Applications

In consultation with Clean PowR we have previously identified the following technologies as potential patent candidates:

1. Energy-efficient governor assembly;
2. Alternative motor to flywheel drive arrangement;
3. Alternative networking of the flywheel assembly;
4. Alternative energy generators for rapid extraction of momentum from flywheel assembly;
5. Gyroscope-style flywheel assembly.

These technologies represent improvements in or variations from the disclosures of Clean PowR's International patent application No. PCT/AU2018/050686 which forms the basis of one (1) of their two(2) core technologies. In the interest of maintaining confidentiality, these descriptions of the technologies are intended not to disclose the specific implementations and embodiments. Although these technologies are considered to be patent-eligible it does not mean that they are either:

1. patent-ready or capable of being constructed in a preferred embodiment; or
2. patentable in light of the relevant prior art.

Formalised Trade Secrets (2020)

Clark IP provided Clean PowR with confidential strategic advice discussing specific scientific hypotheses or discoveries and the preferred type of protection i.e., trade secret and/or patent protection. In providing this advice it is important to recognise that:

1. trade secret protection is generally only effective where for example the scientific hypotheses or discoveries cannot be reverse engineered from the associated technology or published patent application;
2. trade secret protection is of an indefinite term or survives in perpetuity provided the underlying technology or hypotheses/discoveries are kept confidential whereas patent protection has a limited term of typically 20 years;
3. trade secret protection is relatively inexpensive and for example does not incur the significant costs generally associated with patent protection.

The confidential advice identified four (4) trade secrets derived from empirical results using benchtop test rigs as part of Clean PowR's R&D activity since 2015. Without explicitly or inherently disclosing these trade secrets, they can be generally categorised as follows:

1. assessing mechanical energy by at least in part departing from conventional thinking where mechanical energy is considered to be a function of force and distance (Assessing Mechanical Energy);
2. determining the optimal work required to lift an object of mass m a vertical height h by at least in part departing from the conventionally-calculated work required being equal to the gravitational potential energy of mgh (MGH Work);
3. calculating electrical energy by at least in part departing from conventional thinking in terms of energy being a function of voltage/current (or power) and time (Calculating Electrical Energy);
4. assessing momentum returns from a swinging pendulum departing from conventional physics where it is understood that the conventionally-calculated input energy is "fixed" at mgh (Assessing Momentum).

The following table summarises our advice to Clean PowR in terms of the interplay between trade secret and patent protection for these four (4) scientific hypotheses or discoveries.

Technology/Hypothesis	Trade Secret	Patent protection
Assessing Mechanical Energy	Yes	Yes
MGH Work	Yes	Possibly
Calculating Electrical Energy	Yes	Possibly
Assessing Momentum	Interim	Possibly

It should be noted that the technology/ hypothesis pertaining to Mechanical Energy is the subject of both trade secret and patent protection. The patent protection extends to the Clean PowR patent portfolio which accompanies this report. In our opinion the published information from the patent portfolio fails to provide adequate information for the informed reader to reverse engineer the underlying technology/ hypothesis. As such, by Clean PowR continuing to maintain confidentiality around the scientific hypotheses or discovery of Mechanical Energy dual protection is possible i.e. both trade secret and patent protection.

For the remaining three (3) technologies/ hypotheses in the context of "Patent Protection", "possibly" means the embodiment or device incorporating the trade secret may be eligible for patent protection depending on whether:

1. patent protection can be obtained without disclosing the trade secret;
2. the device/apparatus is patentable and satisfies the relevant tests of novelty and inventive step;
3. if patenting publishes the trade secret explicitly or inherently, limited term patent protection or potentially indefinite term trade secret protection is preferred.

In layman's terms, the "novelty" test is satisfied where the claimed invention (from the patent specification) is not described or illustrated in any single document (or disclosed through use) which has entered the public domain before the relevant priority date of the patent application. The "inventive step" test is satisfied where the claimed invention is not considered obvious in light of the prior art which generally captures public information contained in documents or disclosed by use before the priority date.

In the case of Assessing Momentum, it is expected that this technology/hypothesis will be retained by Clean PowR as a trade secret up until enablement of a device/apparatus embodying this trade secret. At that time, the device/apparatus will most likely be the subject of a patent application which on publication is expected to disclose the trade secret i.e. the trade secret could be reverse engineered from the device/apparatus and the relevant disclosures of the patent application. For these reasons, the trade secret protection is considered "Interim" and may later be superseded by a patent application. In the event Clean PowR decides not to file a patent application for the Assessing Momentum device, it is expected that the trade secret will nonetheless be apparent from the device/apparatus itself and as such the trade secret will be lost on revealing the device/apparatus.

Limitations of Report

It should be appreciated that this report is subject to limitations including:

1. the majority of Clean PowR's patent applications have yet to be granted, and depending on prior art and other possible objections, may be rejected or abandoned if commercially meaningful protection is not possible;
2. the trade secret protection of scientific hypotheses or discoveries is reliant on robust confidentiality agreements and associated protocols, noting that any breach of confidentiality although possibly actionable by Clean PowR will most likely destroy the trade secret;
3. this report is not to be taken as an engineering assessment or expert opinion of the technology/ hypothesis associated with the R&D activities of Clean PowR.

We expect this report adequately summarises the current IP position for Clean PowR.

Yours sincerely

David Clark

Global Power Industry

A Novel Scientific & Commercial Opportunity

Typical Isolated System vs. PowRchanics Open System Engineering Innovation

A fundamental principle of science is that in any system, input energy cannot be increased but only transformed from one form to another. (This is governed by the standard conservation law (in particular, of energy). This is shown on left side of figure above.

PowRchanics® has uncovered a potential unprecedented scientific Discovery discovery regarding a proposed, overlooked principle in science that reveals a deeper understanding of Potential Energy, Work, Kinetic Energy and Momentum. This has been achieved by taking an innovative pathway using momentum-based principles to reach output momentum amplification by exploiting innovative Open System operational dynamics vs. a standard Isolated System approach. PowRchanics® has demonstrated Initial Investigations of the Concept for this proposed new scientific understanding. (Stage 4 in the figure above is subject to the completion of the proposed Stage Two R&D). A newly discovered third class of global power generation using an innovative capture of fundamental natural forces, applied over time. The Company has uniquely called this concept, 'PowRchanics Amplification'

"Only love matters" music for Soft Diamond Light

Composed & Produced by Anatole Kononewsky

Production: Studio Recording Sessions

The album was produced using a very unique and intuitive production process over a number of years. All the instrumental recording sessions were based on the one melody of a song.

All of the original instrumental recording sessions by each of the musicians were independent and stand alone that we really had no idea what the finished CD was going to turn out to be.

All of the musicians thought they were primarily playing backing pieces to the song. The actual shape of the CD and the individual tracks only emerged after a very long time in the editing and mixing process. This occurred as we slowly brought together all the individual musical takes into what became the final overall piece of music based on the song.

One Coherent Overall Piece of Music

There were also some new tracks created in the editing process to produce the final CD. The music, originating from a large number of independent, individual instrumental tracks, recorded by different musicians over a number of months, slowly came together to reveal one coherent overall piece of music. It ended up as thirteen 'moves', a song and a reprise, coming together as one piece of music based on the one melody of the song while still maintaining their individual 'note' in the overall CD as fifteen unique and distinctive tracks.

The overall production of the music took a journey of fourteen years to prepare and complete.

Most of this time was spent on the inner preparation and energy generated from the song, first written back in 1993. performed for my spiritual teacher in a meeting on 25th March 1997 and then requested by her to have it performed again in front of hundreds in an ashram on my birthday, 1st April 1997.

These experiences are documented in "One Sweet Voice". (See over-page).

I know I am Chorus

Words and music © Anatole Petrovich Kononewsky, 1993

Bridge

Verse 1

The whisper of the wind, caressing your hair,
The fragrance of your warmth
Surrounds my senses in the night,
As I'm standing in the light
And the moon is shining bright.

If the clouds grow dark and it rains,
I think of you and call your name.
If I'm in doubt and don't know what to do
I know your love will see me through.

Instrumental

Chorus

Chorus

There is something that I can't explain,
My love grows stronger when I call your name.
My heart just opens and I know I am,
Everything that you say I am.

Verse 3

The whisper of the wind, caressing your hair
The fragrance of your warmth
Surrounds my senses in the night,
As I'm standing in the light
And the moon is shining bright.

Verse 2

The sparkle in your eyes, reflecting my gaze
The softness of your touch
As your eyes melt into mine,
I know I'm running into time,
Cause I know that I can't hide.

Chorus repeat x 3

Contemporary Ballet Overview

Dance Moves Overview

Soft Diamond Light and the ballet is dedicated to my spiritual teacher.

Objective

The objective is to choreograph an exquisite and captivating contemporary ballet to the music album: 'Only love matters'. The aim is to inspire a beautiful, powerful heartfelt experience for the audience, connecting them to their innate inner spirit and intuitive knowing of our united consciousness.

The intention is to capture the essence of creative expression via the inner inspired impulse of dance and music.

It is intended to use the specific titles of the music tracks and their associated sub-titles as an inspirational starting-point for each of the choreographed dance pieces.

The ballet will also use two 'Meditations' and their associated 'Insights' from the book, 'Soft Diamond Light, Only love matters', plus the theme poem for Soft Diamond Light, 'Jewel of the Lotus' as a source of inspiration for the choreography.

Ancient Power of Sound (Mantrika Shakti)

Everything Comes into Physical Reality via Sound.

In esoteric tradition and understanding, every seed in nature creates a "unique note" when it germinates! This "etheric note" is its specific sound signature that embodies what it can and does become. This intelligence within nature creates a glorious symphony of inner sound forming the source of all manifestation. There is a body of ancient teaching and wisdom called Mantrika or Matrika Shakti. The force or power of letters, speech, or music. It is the creative power inherent in sound -- every sound being a vibration, and every vibration having its own numerical keynote.

Consider that every creative act, especially your business, is manifested via the use of sound -- selling/ marketing/ PR/ Planning is all about this! Essentially, speech gives form and expression to emotion: an idea animated with an direction.

But the inner truth is far more profound and powerful in its implications and applications!

The songs were composed during a challenging time in my life after my divorce with my childhood sweetheart and separation from my young daughter.

1981 – 1982 (Theatre)

After some speech and singing training in 1981, Anatole auditioned for 2 semi-professional plays, in which he was successful in receiving key roles in both.

"Find Me" by Owen Wymark

The first play was first performed in 1977. It is the true story of Verity Taylor, who grew up in the 60s and 70s, and whose extremely disruptive personality threw into sharp relief the inability of various institutions to be able to diagnose or cope with her problems. In the end, after setting fire to a chair in a mental hospital, Verity was committed to Broadmoor - a massively strict sentence for someone who needed help, not locking up. It's definitely not a comedy.

I wrote the song, "Find Me" for the play – it was played at the end of the show.

"Coriolanus" by William Shakespeare

The second play based on the life of the legendary Roman leader. This is one of Shakespeare's later plays, appearing circa 1607, following on the heels of landmark tragedies such as King Lear, Macbeth, and Antony and Cleopatra..

They were both directed by David Williamson.

1983 - 1986 (Computer System)

Responsible for the implementation of a major new computer system, the land Tax 'COLLECT' system. It was awarded a GOLD award in the Technology in Government Committee's inaugural "Technology and Computer Productivity Awards". It was presented by the Governor General, 1988. (See page 66 below.)

1987 - 1992 (TV Series)

An Overview

"Inner stillness is the greatest source of creative power in the universe."

This musical was inspired by a classical story told by a great spiritual teacher. Its message is about never giving up and giving your best in whatever you are doing, especially when pursuing your dreams.

It is also a heartwarming and uplifting love story.

A production synopsis has been developed incorporating the guitar compositions; songs and instrumental pieces created by Anatole at different times of his life over the last 40 years.

It also incorporates the remarkable inner wonders of metaphysics, based on ancient esoteric teachings, science and wisdom, using reincarnation as a vehicle for the main characters to move through time and space as this universal beautiful story unfolds.

The aim is to create an inspiring, uplifting & entertaining production!

Guitar with Strings: Dancing with Inner Fire!

This classical guitar piece was created between 1978 to 1994 – I recorded the pieces on cassette tapes at home – very rough demos – luckily I kept them because I've even forgotten how to play some of the pieces. It is proposed to add strings sections to the composition. It is also intended that the ultimate performance and production of the composition will incorporate uplifting and integrated choreographed dance pieces – capturing the fullness of dancing with fire!

1. Guitar with Strings Overview
2. Intergalactic Space: Free your mind. (First Movement)
3. Three Moments plus a Second (Second Movement):

 - Second Moment.
 - Third Moment plus a Second.
4. Dancing with Inner Fire. (Third Movement)
5. Softness of Sound . (Reprise) – Very Rough Home Recording.

This composition is dedicated to my family.

Heart of Australia

I wonder at the stars above, our silent guiding lights.
The wisdom of the timeless past, speaks into my heart.
Though I may stand on distant shores and question from afar,
These sacred golden lands of plenty, speak to who we are.

At the heart of Australia I hear my spirit call.
A longing for a timeless truth that unites us all.
Where the beauty of these ancient lands sings into my soul.
At the heart of Australia, I've found home.

When I look at nature's tapestry, a mystery we recall.
As the rhythm of our seasons, whisper secrets to us all.
Though I may stand on distant shores, hear answers from afar,
This sacred golden land of plenty, speaks to who we are.

At the heart of Australia I hear my spirit call.
A longing for a timeless truth that unites us all.
Where the beauty of these ancient lands sings into my soul.
At the heart of Australia, I've found home.

I found home.

At the heart of Australia I hear a distant call.
A longing for a timeless truth that unites us all.
Where the beauty of these ancient lands sings into my soul.
At the heart of Australia, I've found home.

At the heart of Australia I hear my spirit call.
A longing for a timeless truth that unites us all.
Where the beauty of these ancient lands sings into my soul.
At the heart of Australia, I found home.

Inspire – Celebrate – Unite

The Heart of Australia Creative Team worked closely with Yorta Yorta man, Tiriki Onus in 2019/20 on the mission and vision of the project. As Senior Lecturer in Indigenous Arts And Culture at the Victorian College of the Arts and Head of the Wilin Centre for Indigenous Arts and Cultural Development Tiriki's advice and ongoing support is invaluable.

Australia is home to the oldest living continuous culture on Earth. In Australia there are more than 250 Indigenous languages including 800 dialects. Each language is specific to a particular place and people.

Australian English borrows more than 400 words from Aboriginal languages. In 1788 there were between 300 and 700 Indigenous languages spoken across Australia by millions of people. The Dream Time: Aboriginal cultural and spiritual identity refers to the Indigenous understanding of the world's creation -- a continuing story that never ends. Unlike other religions, Aboriginal people do not put humans on a level higher than nature. An understanding that is important and relevant to the entire planet and environment at this time.

Australia is not only a successful multicultural nation but it is the most ethnically diverse country in the world. With 26% of Australians being born overseas and 49% of people having at least one parent born overseas, Australia has 100 religions and 300 ethnic groups in our cultural melting pot.

The Heart Connections initiative was also launched on 26 October 2022. It will showcase people and groups whose ideas and activities inspire us all.

How it Started?

Initiative (1990) & Documentary (1993)

Launched in Melbourne

Celebrating the 30th Anniversary (2023)

Before it's Too Late Project

The "Before it's Too Late" project was implemented between 1990 and 1993. It supported many leading edge groups, in particular the Lighthouse Foundation, founded by Susan Barton AO. During that time there were many major events held in Melbourne & Sydney. A documentary was produced called, "Our Children's Future in our Hands," (distributed to schools around Australia, including a Manual for teachers); the project generated awareness through national TV, with Max Walker and Robert Kiyosaki as the Spokespersons.

The project also channelled human and material resources to youth support groups. It created educational programs for empowering Youth Groups including a major "Success Congress for Teens" in Sydney, which was supported by leading sports and entertainment celebrities.

The Project and the video received wide acknowledgment within the community. This has included many Government officials and celebrities, who commented:

"It is pleasing to see your efforts in this regard. I wish you well in your continuing efforts for young people..." The Honourable Vin Heffernan.

"The 'Before it's Too Late' project is important to help young people in a positive way." The Honourable Michael John.

"The video only confirmed everything that I have actually felt and know, how important it is for business and Government and Welfare Agencies actually get together and address this problem, not individually but all together. That's the only way we have any chance of solving the problems in our community." The Late John Sell, Managing Director, ESPRIT International.

"I think it's a fantastic idea because too often if you have something to give, what do I do? This way here you will steer me in the right direction." Derryn Hinch, the Midday Show.

"It's people coming to you with skills that can be utilised to help these kids." Steve Liebman on the Today Show.

"The video is one of the most powerful tools you would ever want to use." Max Walker from the Nine Network.

"...your video was fantastic." Jennifer Keays, Channel 7 News.

"There are a lot of important issues covered in the video. Congratulations!" Anne Sanders from 11AM, National TV.

Lighthouse Foundation

The aims of the Lighthouse Foundation are to care for and give support to disadvantaged children and teenagers, within a safe, loving family environment. The children are also guided into personal growth programs, which encourage them to take responsibility for their own lives. The group was formed to support Susan Barton who has worked tirelessly in this area for over 16 years. The second Lighthouse is starting in 1991.

808

808, otherwise known as the Doncaster and Templestowe Youth Resource Centre, provides a wide range of services to youth in the area. The centre provides accommodation to homeless youth, counselling, personal development courses as well as a variety of recreation, holiday and entertainment activities for all young people in the area, including those with disabilities.

"Groups Supported

Kairos Housing Project

The Kairos Housing Project has established supported accommodation to young people aged 15-24 in the Lamberwell area. The programme is focused specifically on maintaining youth in the education system that may otherwise be lost due to unsuitable circumstances. This is achieved by providing housing to those in need, safe shelter to those at risk and dispensing support to young people so they develop their own independent living skills and self-worth in a stable home environment.

S.E.E.K.

S.E.E.K. was designed to find the most innovative and creative ways of making learning easy. The aim of the group is to give children and teenagers life skills and success strategies for increased academic and personal performance. The group operates regular programmes in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane and New Zealand.

Warawa Aboriginal College

Warawa College is the first and only registered Aboriginal independent secondary school in Victoria. The college's underlying education philosophy is based on elements of both traditional Aboriginal and current Western education. The college aims to shape Aboriginal persons proud of both their cultural traditions and identity, and who have the ability to contribute effectively to the community at large.

Documentary Released Melbourne (1993)

Alma Doepel

Alma Doepel is a three masted schooner which has been restored by volunteers in order to give young people the opportunity to learn the rigours of sailing a tall ship. The nine day voyage is designed to instill confidence in the participants by involving them in shared decision making which will effect the group as a whole and to realise their own self-worth through their ability to deal with others. The Alma Doepel celebrated her 90th birthday on October 10 1993.

Discovery

Discovery is a seven day residential adventure offering practical life skills in relationships, communication, education and life understanding. It aims to assist young people to learn more effectively, engender self-esteem and fosters the development of leadership skills.

"Groups Supported

Breaking the Cycle

The programme involves a wilderness challenge to build self-esteem and teamwork, educational training to promote a positive attitude to work and life, and business training to gain constructive experience in the workplace and employer placement support. The basic aim of the programme is to "break the cycle" of welfare dependence and to provide young people with the necessary skills to enable them to fulfil their potential.

Warrandyte Youth Services is a youth organisation which provides a range of services to local youth at risk. They assist in the development of these young people by enabling them to take control of their own lives and creating their own opportunities.

Big Brothers / Big Sisters

The Big Brother/Big Sister program is based on the ongoing friendship between an adult and a young person. The "little brothers" and "little sisters" are 7-16 year old youth whose situation in life indicates the need for additional adult support. The "big brothers" and "big sisters" are adults from all fields of life, who seek to support their "match" by providing a range of everyday activities for them to share and by encouraging and taking an interest in their individual welfare.

'SEE WHAT WE CAN BE'

'Can't you see, what we need, is some love, just to see what we can be.'

'If you look up above to see what is love, in a little child's eyes is just where it lies.

*It's time that we took some time for a look,
just to see what is real and really makes us feel.*

Now you can wait, just for fate, but I'd rather make a move before it's just too late.'

Jerry Speiser (drummer from "Men at Work") helped to produce the demo recording in Melbourne as a guide-track for the Fitzroy Community School Choir who performed the song at the launch in 1993.

Heart of Australia (26 October) Custodianship Past, Present and Future

I HEAR MY SPIRIT CALL

Heart of Australia Song

*"I wonder at the stars above our silent guiding lights.
The wisdom of a timeless past, speaks into my heart."*

Inspired by the song, Heart of Australia, and with a deep respect for the ongoing custodianship of these lands, we seek to honour, support and promote:

- The heart of our Indigenous heritage – its wisdom, its continuity.
- The heart of these lands we call home – its ecology, natural resources and unique artistic expression.
- The heart of our emerging generation of young people – ongoing custodians of these lands.

Heart of Australia Day

On October 26 each year, the Heart of Australia Day will celebrate the living heart of these lands and its peoples. Uniting Australians from all walks of life and cultural diversity, we seek to promote the ongoing custodianship of this country and its unique environment, and to give voice to what we truly love about each other and these lands.

- A new solution to an environmental issue.
- A creative art form and/or expression that celebrates the heart of these lands and cultures, heritage and future.
- A fresh approach to a current community challenge.

Respecting ourselves, each other and the land.

The Deeper Intention of The Heart Awards

Emerging amid a growing awareness of our earth, The Heart Awards will focus on the importance of continuing and supporting the custodianship of these lands, which began over 60,000 years ago, to ensure we can sustain these lands and its peoples for millennia to come.

The Heart Awards seeks to achieve this by inspiring and supporting an emerging generation of custodians committed to these lands and cultures, to find new ways to work with our unique resources in a socially, economically and environmentally sustainable way.

Awards that Keep on Giving from the Heart

The Heart Awards are focused on supporting the creation of practical, real life benefits and outcomes for this country and world.

SOCIAL INITIATIVES

The Heart of Australia Day Initiative was launched on 26 October 2020 with a Facebook page and our website was on 26 October 2021.

The initiative was inspired by the song "Heart of Australis" – co-written with platinum award winning music producers and songwriters, Adrian Hannan and Barbara Hannan.

The song captures the vitality, power and beauty of the Australian landscape, plus the open, welcoming spirit of its people. It also honours the heart of Australia within each of us.

The Heart of Australia Day (26 October) is embarking on a "Journey to the Heart" (Including the premiere launch & performance of song); the "Heart Conference" – Leading entertainers, presenters & game changers; the "Heart Awards" – Supporting young people & our future and "HeatBeat – Caring for one another."

The proposed three year plan is as follows:

1. Journey to the Heart Event (26 October 2022)
2. Heart Conference (26 October 2023):
3. Heart Awards (26 October 2024).

Launch and performance of Song (26 October 2022)

"HeatBeat" Turning the World Around - Caring for one another!

"The Cost of the Criminal Justice System: An analysis"

As Senior Research Officer with the Australian Institute of Criminology in 1974 to 1977 I published a study, "The Cost of the Criminal Justice System: An analysis" at the request of the then Federal Attorney-General of Australia, Robert Ellicott Q.C.

The publication received wide national media coverage.

Abstract

This study examines the actual cost to the Australian taxpayer of maintaining the nation's criminal justice system - police, prisons, courts, etc. - the system that exists as a direct result of crime in our society. The study analyses expenditure over the period 1963-64 to 1973-74 on Law, Order and Public Safety and compares it to expenditure on Education and Health. The Law, Order and Public Safety classification is examined in greater detail under the headings Gaols and Reformatories, Administration of Justice and Police.

"I can cite, as an example, a publication earlier this year by Mr Anatole Kononewsky, a Senior Research Officer at the Institute. Mr Kononewsky made the first detailed analysis of just what it was actually costing to maintain the criminal justice system throughout Australia."

The Attorney-General MR R.J. Ellicott Q.C., 12 November 1976.

CINCH Australian Criminology Database (1976/77)

I was directly responsible for initiating the original CINCH service at the Australian Institute of Criminology in 1976. I named it CINCH, as an acronym for 'Computerised Information from National Criminological Holdings'. I left the institute in 1977, but continued to work as a contractor to complete the CINCH system.

The original data base was subsequently launched in 1976 with requests being received manually from researchers nationally and from around the world. These were processed and the print-outs of hard-copy reports were sent out by the JV Barry Library.

CINCH Australian Criminology Database

Established in 1977 the CINCH database is now an open access index of Australian criminal justice information. It contains material dating back from 1968 to the present time. Source documents indexed in the database include journal articles, books and chapters, conference papers and proceedings, research reports, theses, government documents, statistical publications and unpublished materials.

Subjects covered include all aspects of criminology, corrections, crime prevention, juvenile justice, Indigenous justice, financial crime, criminal justice law, law enforcement and policing.

Records include abstracts, subject terms, bibliographic details and, wherever possible, links to the full text. Updated each month by AIC librarians the database is a comprehensive and unique collection of Australian crime and justice material.

Search CINCH our index of Australian criminal justice information.

CINCH is also available via subscription through Informit (RMIT Publishing).

COLLECT Database System (1983/88)

In 1983 to 1986 I was subsequently responsible for the implementation of a major new computer system as Deputy Commissioner (Systems) at the Department of Finance of the land Tax -- "Computerisation of Liable Land & the Effective Collection of Taxation".

It was awarded a GOLD award in the Technology in Government Committee's inaugural "Technology and Computer Productivity Awards".

This was presented by the Governor General, 1988.

I met Phylicia Rashad in 1991 in Sydney, Australia while I was being formally introduced to my spiritual teacher during darshan. We are still in regular communication.

I met Marcia Hines in 1986 at a James Taylor concert in Sydney, Australia. We became good friends after attending meditation programs together in 1991 and remain so today.

I met Lois Peeler in 1994 at Worawa Aboriginal College while producing a documentary. (Lois was one of the original Sapphires from the movie.) I composed the music to the a special poem by one of sisters, Hyllus Maris, "Spiritual Song of the Aborigine".

I met Lulu in 1991 in Melbourne in relation to the video documentary called 'Our Children's Future, in Our Hands.' She offered her support to the "Before its Too Late" initiative.

Quite inexplicably, I was introduced to Carol Maillard from the legendary acapella group in the USA, "Sweet Honey in the Rock". This was by our spiritual teacher when they were about to leave for a tour of Australia in 1992. We have become very close friends – I now refer to Carol as my "soul-sister".

I met the late Peggy Lipton in 1991 in Melbourne at a event with my Spiritual Teacher. We hit it off straight away. We all went out for a group dinner with Lulu and friends.
